

Profile

Name: Ren (Renè)

Age: 25

Parents:

- Irto & Lutezia (Natural Parents)
- Erennio Umbro (Adoptive Father)

Species: Human

Specialities:

- Tactician
- Charisma
- Brilliant
- Skilled Swordsman

Occupation: Captain of the "Grey Banner"

Appearance

Ren has black, wavy hair, deep blue eyes and a small scar on the right cheek.

Her traits are delicate, but her mouth is often distorted into a contrite grimace.

She wears elegant full armour and a high-quality straight sword on her left side.

Personality

Smart, charismatic, erudite, careful, detached, loyal and grateful, her only concern seems to be to make his adoptive father proud.

Background

She was born in a small village near Ianira from a couple of humble origins. Her father, Irto, was a gruff and virile leatherworker, while her mother was a weaver who became apathetic after Ren's brother's abortion.

Ren helped her parents run their stall in Ianira market. Here, when she was fourteen, she was approached by a man who introduced her to a drug called Acoria (similar to ecstasy), which caused her an addiction and led her to squander all the family's earnings.

Because of that, she was disowned and became homeless. She even started to sell her body to earn money for the Acoria.

At the age of 16, Erennio Umbro, a wealthy man, decided to adopt her and take her with him to Villa Umbra, seeing all her wasted potential.

Erennio makes her study and she even starts to take sword lessons with the recruits of the Gray Banner, the mercenary group her adoptive father created.

After a few years, she started to serve in the Gray Banner and began to ascend the ranks. She became captain at the age of 24 and the first mission her father assigned her was to lead her men in the northern region and serve Charun during their war against the rebel tribe.

The mercenaries of the "Grey Banner" she leads

The flag of the "Grey Banner"

Map of the "Archipelago of the Forgotten"

THE BALLAD OF DEATH AND WIND

JAN STIGLIANI

Inner demons and the desire for revenge meet in a vivid and varied fantasy world.

